

Takayuki SOGA

Takayuki SOGA is currently the Deputy Manager of Corporate Planning Headquarters, West Japan Railway Company.

He first began to work for West Japan Railway Company in 1999. He has held various positions concerning construction, and participated significant number of projects. His experience spread over a wide spectrum covering electrical engineering.

He holds a Bachelors Degree in Electrical Engineering from Kyoto University.